The city papers are putting in a number of automatic paper peddling machines on the trolley poles along 63rd st. They tried to put them on the concrete poles erected by the merchants, but were compelled to take them down, as they should be on the iron poles.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Englewood Presbyterian church, 64th and Yale ave., will hold a Valentine party Thursday evening, February 15, in the church parlors. An interesting program is assured and a special invitation is extended to those who wish to acquaint themselves with a nice crowd of young folks.

Ezra Wells, 5727 Shields ave., died suddenly Monday morning following a brief illness. His wife, Mrs. Blanche Wells, had been with him all night until 3 o'clock in the morning, when, after the doctor's visit, he had induced her to take a little rest. The family found him dead at 5 o'clock. Besides Mrs. Wells, there are surviving a son and daughter, Emory and Mrs. James Osborn. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the home with burial at Forest Home cemetery

Englewood Is Not Keeping Step in the Progressive March

For thirty six years the Englewood Times has championed our town, and has spent more time, money and energy than any other interest in the town in fighting for its rights and trying to keep it in the lead of the suburbs, but we admit that we are a bit discouraged to see the present stagnation in the line of large and more pretentious buildings. Hyde Park and Kenwood has half a hundred fine hotels and more building, yet we have none except the antiquated old one that was built back in 1887. Hundreds of Englewood people, many of whom are in business here, are compelled to go elsewhere to find a high class apartment or family hotel to live in. A dozen efforts have been made in the past few years to secure a fine hotel for our town, but our moneyed men and women will not let loose of their measly old dollars to help out the home town. They will invest in oil wells in Oklahoma, or icebergs in Alaska, and we have millions resting in safety deposit vaults bringing no income, that should be put to practical good use right here at home. No one can question the safety and productiveness of such investments, but we seem to be lacking in public patriotism and spirit for our own locality. We have rows of little one-story or at the most two-story buildings, but the building of a real structure that we might be proud of, seems impossible. We have a good class of stores, merchants who are willing to carry good stocks and keep up with the procession in other parts of the city, but we have few buildings for them. Once in a while a fire will clean out one of the old shacks but instead of a new, modern up-to-date building replacing it, the old one is patched up or a tissue paper one-story affair fills the gap. It is humiliating to write these things of our town. We are an educational and religious center and have the finest of schools and churches, but our business houses are bum.

Mr. R. McKee came in to visit his mother, Mrs. Lulu McKee, 6441 Harvard ave.

Mr. H. D. Mann of 450 61st pl., left for Carbondale, Ill., on a business trip.

Rev. Geo. C. Cady, who has been ill at his home, N. Normal pkwy., is recovering.

Mrs. Wm. M. Frink, 6404 Harvard ave., is very ill with pneumonia at Wesley hospital.

This has been a fine year for skating and all of the little lakes have been well patronized.

Mrs. Alice O'Neal entertained seven of her friends at luncheon Thursday at the "Tudor."

Mrs. Wm. Owen, 425 61st pl., has returned home after a visit with her cousins in Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. Thos. Mason, 6431 Harvard ave., is about again after a siege of two weeks illness with la grippe.

Doctor and Mrs. Cushing, 6400 Harvard ave., left Wednesday for St. Petersburg, Fla., for two months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ross of 6237 Stewart ave. were made exceedingly happy last week by the arrival of a pretty baby daughter.

Mrs. Geo. Roulston and little son, Robert, 322 64th st, will leave Monday for a two weeks visit with her brother in New Orleans, La

Mrs. Harry Wilsdon of 537 61st st., entertained the Cabinet of the Sigma society of the M. E. church at dinner last Tuesday evening.

Englewood council, Knights of Columbus, are giving a dance and card party at K. of C. hall, 63rd st. and Harvard ave, next Friday night, Feb. 9th.

Mr. and Mrs Fred W. Weber of Omaha, Nebr., have been guests at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Hackland, 6449 Harvard ave., the past week.

Mrs. Harleigh H. Hartman of Washington, D. C., with her children, Patsy and Bill, are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Sullivan, 259 64th St

Miss Hazel Parker, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Parker of 5600 S. Park ave., was married Monday, Jan. 22nd, to Lewis W. Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Mann of 450 61st pl.

The Garfield W. C. T. U. will hold their monthly meeting on Feb. 9th at the home of Mrs. E. Crum, 5917 Normal blvd. Mrs. W. F. Runner, county superintendent of Americanization will address the meeting. Every woman who is interested is invited to attend

Honoring her sisters, Mrs. J. H. Bamforth of Galena, Ill., and Mrs. J. W. Leonard of Brampton, Ontario, Mrs. Charles W. Rossman of 259 64th st., entertained at bridge Wednesday evening. Mrs. Rossman was hostess to twelve dinner guests Friday evening also.

Educational or Not?

A report that Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and Jack Barrymore may put on the movies "Faust." We have had a treat of "Oliver Twist," "When Knighthood Was in Flower," and a number of the dramatizations of gems of literature of the past, and while they are works of art in their way, they were far from being literary in the acceptance of the books. We notice an inclination of young folks not to read what we of an older age considered the necessary classics. Few that even pretend to ordinary education know of Dickens, Thackeray, or our own Cooper, let alone the poets of revered memories, and doubtless this is due in a large measure to the idea that if it is worth while they will soon see it in the movies without time or trouble of reading the work. Of course they do not realize that the picturization is a more or less garbled interpretation, and they cannot appreciate what they have missed in not reading the original, but even so it is well to give them a taste of good literature, and they are surely better than the morbid sex screens that at one time threatened to ruin the pictures. The movies have become the highest commercialized art in the world now and it is well that it is turned into a moral instead of a sensational channel, yet it behooves the careful parent to know the class of pictures their young folks patronize as in some the moral points of even historical plays are submerged by the salacious and exaggerated features. It is fair to presume that the pictures will always be the kind that the people want and will patronize, and hence producers are not altogether to blame for handing out the cheaper clap trap so long as they bring in the mone yand pay for million dollar houses.

Miss Mary Stone, 302 65th st., who has been ill, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Ada Conover, 6545 Yale ave., who left for California Wednesday, will tour California before her return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gosswein, formerly Miss Mildred Millett, are proud parents of a young son, born in Indianapolis, Ind.

Mrs. Royce Cram and mother, Mrs. Maw, 6444 Yale ave., left Sunday for several weeks visit at the old home in Canada.

The Queen Esther banquet held at the M. E. church last Friday evening, was a great success in every way. Mr. H. W. Baumgartner had charge of the dinner and program.

Churches Mass to Help Christian Refugees

The churches of America are engaged in a great campaign for funds to meet the tragic emergency in the Near East, involving the lives of hundreds of thousands of Christian refugees driven out of home and country by the fighting on the Greco-Turkish front.

Eight church denominations, representing a total of approximately 11,000,000 communicants, have made special appeals and officially set aside field days on which the churches will present the need of the Near East people and receive offerings for Near East relief. The Federal Council of Churches—representing thirty denominations—has issued two appeals for contributions through the churches.

Edmund Fitch, Stratford Theater Organist, Mistreated by Cops

The arrest of Edmund Fitch, $600 a month pipe organist at the Stratford theater, 715 W. Sixty-third street, Sunday, charged with having in his possession two stolen automobiles, had an aftermath Monday when Fitch appeared before the council police committee and displayed a back covered with wounds which he alleges were inflicted by a rubber hose in the hands of a policeman at the detective bureau Sunday night.

In the South Clark street police court when the case came up before Judge Schulman it was continued to February 20 and a warrant issued for the arrest of the policeman alleged to have administered the beating.

Officers at the detective bureau say they spent two weeks in investigation before warrants were asked for Fitch's arrest. Because of his prominence as a musician and composer, they wished to be sure of their grounds. A machine stolen from Earl Leonard, auto dealer at Kedzie avenue and Washington boulevard, was traced to him.

Police started in quest of a certain Mrs. Ruth Lathrop, said to live in the neighborhood of Green and Sixty-third streets, following the Sunday night session, which afterward attained notoriety, with their prisoner at the detective bureau Sunday night. She was to have been married to the organist, police said, when she obtained a divorce from her husband and Fitch is said to have given her a second automobile for which he could not produce a bill of sale.

When he appeared before the council committee Monday Fitch had an injured hand which his attorney said would keep him from playing the organ for weeks, abrasions on his left side, contusions on both temples, and a series of welts across his back.

"I am not in favor of beating prisoners," said Chief Fitzmorris at the meeting when he declared every opportunity would be given Fitch to identify the policeman he accused of mistreating him.

Know Your Car

It is just as important to keep your storage battery charged as it is to keep your tires inflated. An uncharged battery will soon be ruined. Overcharging also is injurious.

You can determine the condition of your battery by the tone of your auto horn. A high pitch indicates an overcharge, a low pitch, an undercharge.

Lack of sufficient water ruins more batteries than do overcharges and undercharges.

You'll remember these simple, worry-saving facts more easily if you understand the construction of your battery. It consists of a "battery" of cells connected in series—one cell for every two volts. Each cell consists of a hard rubber jar filled with thin, vertical plates, alternately positive and negative, separated by wood or rubber. The positive plate consists of a lead framework filled with lead peroxid. The negative plate contains pure lead in a porous state.

The plates are immersed in a solution of sulphuric acid and water, called "electrolyte," much heavier than water. As the battery discharges, the lead and lead peroxid on the plates are changed to lead oxid on both plates and there is also a formation of lead sulphate that causes the lowering of the specific gravity of the electrolyte by the loss of sulphur and oxygen.

The condition of the electrolyte in each cell should be testd frequently for specific gravity with a hydrometer syringe. The specific gravity should be raised only by charging.

Stealing Nickels Is Always Wrong

Newspapers report that a man who had been twenty four years a waiter at Delmonico's was fined $50 for dropping a slug instead of a nickel in a subway turnstile. He had no excuse. Any good waiter knows that tinfoil is not money.

This same subway has time and again kept right on selling fares after a breakdown had temporarily blocked its lines. Instead of service, people bought delay, discomfort and danger on its mobbed platforms. The subway has not developed any system for warning its patrons as to what they are getting into when things go wrong. Isn't that tinfoil for nickels? Or worse? Even a brief delay easily scores ten thousand fares sold under unfair conditions.

Of course this is bad business. No outfit is big enough to afford having its customers hate it. But the point here is justice. Justice must be the same no matter whether the offender is a corporation or just folks.

The funeral occurred Monday afternoon from St Stephens Lutheran church and the remains were taken to the Blue Island Lutheran cemetery for burial

Politics for the 18th Ward

The Better City Council association of the 18th ward met at the D. S. Wentworth school on January 26th, and selected the permanent officers Mr. H. F. Wuehrman was elected chairman and W. H. Krauss secretary.

Mr. Wiley W. Mills of the Chicago Better City Council committee addressed the gathering and dwelled upon the traction problem now so prominently before the public, emphasizing that public ownership was the only solution and for that reason the voters should see to it that the coming city council should be made up of men well able to cope with the problem

He said "As long as the New York crowd has the control of the transportation systems of Chicago the present political situation will prevail"

Committees were appointed to study the candidates, their qualifications and report then future findings to a similar gathering which will then endorse a suitable candidate for alderman for the 18th ward

A finance committee was also appointed to serve their purpose and to help finance the campaign which is to follow.

The gathering was made up of various groups from different factions who were pulling the wires, however, it appeared that a Non-partisan element carried the meeting through to the end.

The meeting adjourned with apparent satisfaction to the majority present.

There are at the present writing, as far as known to the writer, eight candidates in the field, among those who have filed their papers are A. F. Domke, James Rea, candidate; Chas. Baar, Charley Williams' candidate; S. Bandringa, and W. G. Wehrwein, a citizens' committee candidate. There were mentioned the names of P Heines, Healy and Ryan whose petitions were not filed at this writing

This is the time that the voters and taxpayers should make it their business and study their candidates and assist in the selection of a worthy alderman or forever keep quiet.

Do not lay down on the job, join the Non-partisan movement—let all parties belong to you and become a member of the 18th Ward Better City Council association. The time has come for all citizens to join hands and without "party politics" help to get a better council. The movement has been started in good faith, and unless you and that means YOU, lay dormant, the political wire puller will succeed again. WAKE UP, you good fellows, men and women, and be on the job before it is too late.

Call parlor meetings and select a few delegates out of your number and watch when the next meeting is called for the selection of a suitable candidate for alderman.

The executive committee of the Ideal Improvement association will meet at the home of W. G. Wehrwein Friday, Feb 2nd, 1923, at 8 p. m

Ogden Park Second Annual Winter Sports Day

The second annual winter sports day at Ogden park brought out a large crowd of participants and spectators for the afternoon races in spite of the inclement weather on Saturday The big races of the day were the four-man relay race and the mile race for senior men. The relay was won by the team representing the Blossom Athletic club. The Stolen Kisses came in second. The mile race was won by Claude Madsen, Ed Murray and Bill Claussen made a close second and third. Ed McNamara was fourth Among the girls Ruth Willard, 5917 Justine, and Anna Simmons, 6456 Bishop st, were the stars and give promise, both of them, of being championship material. Among the younger boys Charles and Francis Barry, William Murray and Raymond Walsh took the honors. The carnival in the evening was far more successful this year than last. There were more lights, more costuming and good music Mr Henry Hanbury of the Ogden Park Men's Gym club filled the breach at the last minute and personally paid $25 for an orchestra, which was enjoyed not only by the skaters, but also by the crowd on shore.

The costume contest for boys and men was won by Mr. Gall, in a comedy bell boy's outfit. The women's prize was won by Mabel Asher in a jockey costume. Henry Dykema and George Seipp shared honors for the prizes given for stunt skating for boys.

Many unusual prizes were given through the generosity of the local merchants and neighborhood women. Ten one dollar savings accounts were given by both the West Englewood Trust and Savings bank and the Ashland and 63rd Street State bank. Five dollars was donated by the representative, John M. Lee, which was used for buying horns that were given to all the crowd at the carnival Every person who donated a prize was sent a letter of appreciation by the committee in charge and mailed a copy of the programs on which all prizes and names and addresses of donors were printed in full.

It was estimated that fully 5,000 persons were present. This fact alone, aside from the success of the affair, should make every person who worked for it and all those who gave prizes, feel amply repaid.

Volley Ball

Two of the Ogden park teams drew byes in the South park tournament this week The "Unlimited" team defeated Bessemer park on Saturday afternoon by a decisive score. The Evening "B" team was awarded its game by a forfeit from Bessemer park. The Evening "A" team plays Lyman Trumbull park this Friday evening a postponed game.

Red Cross Home Nursing Class

Women who are interested in joining an afternoon class in home nursing offered by the Red Cross, should register with the park director.

Wednesday Evening Program

The program this week was given by the Civic Music Children's chorus of the park. The chorus meets twice a week and is preparing to give an operetta, "The Frog Prince," in the near future.

The next program for the community will be offered by two singers, a pianist and a violinist, who have been frequently heard in the radio, Mr. Leonard Huber, Mr. Ed Shriner and Mrs. Ray.

The artist will be Silio Scionti, one of Chicago's foremost pianists. He has made repeated successful appearances with the symphony orchestras of the larger cities.

The guests of honor will be the Drama League.

This Week at the Englewood

George Jessel's "Troubles of 1922" at the Englewood this week is a decided success. This is his second appearance in Englewood, having appeared in the early Fall of 1922. The specialties are very good. Chas. O'Brien and End Warren have an excellent little stunt. The Courtney sisters are exceedingly clever in their southern songs, they in fact rank 100 per cent in whatever they do. George Jessel is one of the cleverest on the stage today, the pep he injects in it makes his material doubly strong. We are pleased to state that the Englewood theater is giving the utmost in clean, up-to-date entertainment and it is gathering the spoils by way of excellent patronage.

Tuesday evening, February 6, Greater Chicago Post No. 866 and South Town Memorial Auxiliary will hold a bunco and card party at the G. A. R. Hall, 6238 Princeton ave. A nominal fee of 25 cents will be charged. The prizes given will be valuable and numerous.

This Week at the Empress

The Greenwich Village Review at the Empress Theater this week is making a splendid impression with the people, with such comedians as Marty Ward, Tom Senna, Ray Reid, and an aggregation of a beautiful chorus. It is what we would say a very good burlesque show. The Empress has made a decided hit with its special nights—every night having something different. Some nights they award prizes, other nights they have a Good Form Contest and so on. Friday night is Amateur Night, which affords a barrel of fun aside from the regular show.

Barren Sand Waste Yields Rich Silver

The activity of the old lumber days at Port Austin, Mich., and vicinity are to be revived, but silica sand, and not lumber, will furnish the motive power for the active industrial scenes. Port Austin's industrial activity is rising Phoenix-like from the ashes and what was considered a bleak, worthless sand waste is to be converted into golden dollars and give employment to many men

Summed up in brief a lake shore sand bank has been purchased by a Detroit fuel and building supply company. Analytical tests show that this waste sand, which is known in industrial circles as silica sand, is admirably adapted to foundry and casting work.

Almost two hundred men are now at work constructing new docks, for it is planned to ship the sand by water from Port Austin to Detroit. The lumber and timber for the 2,500 foot dock, which is now under construction, is being purchased from farmers in the vicinity of Port Austin, so that the village will also benefit from the item of construction

The new dock is near the old wharves, which in the early lumbering days of the Thumb made Port Austin and its suburb, Port Crescent, thriving centers. The silica sand deposit, it is stated, will not be exhausted for thirty years.

What was considered a barren, sandy waste promises to put Port Austin and Port Crescent once more on the map of the "Thumb" as wide-awake industrial centers.—Detroit News.

Two Dead From Boiler Explosion

Joseph Hoar, 52 years of age, 632 W. Sixty-first street, and Julius Grill, 431 Tremont street, are dead and two colored helpers, William Miller, 5927 S. State street and William Mangin, 4846 Vincennes avenue, are seriously injured as the result of a boiler explosion in the roundhouse of the Pennsylvania railroad at Garfield boulevard and Normal avenue, Sunday morning.

Hoar was the roundhouse night foreman and Grill was a boiler repairer. Hoar died shortly after being removed to the Englewood hospital. The engine, in which the explosion occurred, was the heaviest freight type built. It was about to pull out of the yards for a trip.

Funeral services for Mr. Hoar will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and interment will be made at Mt. Hope cemetery. Mr. Hoar leaves his wife and a daughter, Josephine.

Bermuda Grants a Bonus to Soldiers

Bermuda is one of those British colonies which supplied its quota of men for the British army in the World war and which now supports and looks after its ex-service men, disabled or otherwise.

Bermuda is known to most Americans as a pleasure resort where the provisions of the eighteenth amendment have no terrors. It contains among its present population a large proportion of men who saw service in France, both white and black.

It was my opportunity to be present in the colonial assembly when the "Bermuda Active Service Contingent Pensions Act," otherwise known as "The Bermuda Bonus Bill," was brought up for discussion on the floor and passed. This bill provides a compensation for those who served overseas and provision for payment to the representatives of those members of the contingent who were killed or died in active service or who have died since the return of the contingent from abroad.

Under this act every soldier, after attaining the age of 55, shall receive from the public treasury 2 shillings (about 50 cents) a day, to be paid monthly. There shall also be paid to the representatives of any soldier who has been killed or died in active service, or who has died since the coming into operation of the law, a gratuity of 100 pounds, or about $450. There is also a provision that any able-bodied soldier who, after attaining the age of 55 years, dies before the total payments on account shall amount to the sum of 100 pounds, there shall be payable to his representatives a sum equivalent to the difference between 100 pounds and the amount of such payments received to the date of his death.—Stars and Stripes.

Welty of Chicago, besides many other relatives and friends.

The Moving Picture in the Church

Ought the moving picture to be used on Sunday as part of the church service? A great variety of opinion has been expressed on this subject, much of it not based on any experience whatever. Most of those who condemn it most strongly have never seen the moving picture used in a church service. On the other hand, those inclined to favor it might not like it so well if they actually saw it done. There is a growing opinion, however, that the moving picture of good dramatic interest, and carrying the right message, will have an increasing place in the program of the church in the days ahead.

An opportunity to form an opinion and also to express it, will be given next Sunday evening, at the Normal Park Baptist Church, 70th st. and Stewart ave., when the picture "The Stream of Life" will be shown. It is a life drama of faith reclaimed, and is, perhaps, the finest moving picture that has yet been made with a religious theme. Wid's Daily, the Bradstreet of filmdom, says of it, "This is truly a picture of life, and has for its main theme the consolation of faith. Taken from the standpoint of artistry and technique, 'The Stream of Life' is indeed worth while. It is a picture of real life with the humor and pathos mingled as we find it along the way. The realistic bits of child life, and especially the rural settings are bound to please.

A card will be given to each person present on which he will be given the opportunity to express his opinion of the value of such a picture in religious service. All are most cordially invited and admission is free.

Te program will include numbers by Martin, Mendelssohn, Rossini, Liszt, Schlussel and O'Hara. The public is invited. The concerts begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Home Care of the Sick

The Chicago chapter, American Red Cross, is giving a course of lessons in "Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick" at the Field House on Thursday afternoons at 2 o'clock. The outline includes talks on "Causes and Prevention of Sickness," "Health and Home," "Babies and Their Care," "Indications of Sickness," "Equipment and Care of the Sick Room," "Beds and Bed Making," "Baths and Bathing," "Appliances and Methods for the Sick Room," "Feeding the Sick," "Medicines and Other Remedies," "Application of Heat, Cold and Counter Irritants," "Care of Patients With Communicable Diseases," "Common Ailments and Emergencies." A small fee sufficient to cover expenses will be charged. The class is open to women of the neighborhood.

Hamilton Park Branch Library

Business men, as a rule, feel they are too busy to profit by their library, and instead of investigating its resources, take it for granted that there is nothing to meet their needs among its books. As a matter of fact, there are nearly as many non-fiction books as fiction, covering a wide range of knowledge, and these books may be taken home by anyone having a library card. Five books may be drawn at one time by any adult borrower, and the library is open every day from nine in the morning until nine in the evening to give everyone an opportunity to visit it. Following is a list of some of the books relating to business in the Hamilton Park Branch library:

Business Employment — Allen. What A Salesman Should Know About Advertising; Bank Advertising Methods—Aspley. Accounts—Belding. Accounting Principles and Practice—Bennett. Science of Accounts—Bentley. Advertising Man—Calkins. Advertising As A Business Force—Cherington. Talking Business—Clapp. Manual of Business Letter Writing—Dolch. Practical Bookkeeping—Ellis. Effective Business Letters—Gardner. The President of the United States Selects V. F. W. As Veteran Medium

Winter gathering of Council of Administration and many state commanders is termed one of the most important events in the Veteran Life of America. Nation's chief executive sends Col. Forbes as his personal representative.

What Happened at Cincinnati

The Veterans of Foreign Wars becomes, in the eyes of the United States Veterans Bureau, the attorney for the disabled veteran.

Co-operation for bigger things established by the presence of Col. C. R. Forbes, Director of the Veterans Bureau, C. Hamilton Cook, National Commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War and a representative of the American Book Co., one of the largest publishers of school histories in the country.

The V. F. W. will support President Harding in his desire to use a Sales Tax as the means of financing a new Adjusted Compensation Bill.

At this time we again offer our sincere co-operation in all matters pertaining to the relief of ex-service men.

Englewood Evening High School

On February 5, more than 2,000 students of Englewood Evening School will begin the second semester of their work just as the 50,000 students of the big day high schools will do. Just as in the day high school, all courses will be offered. There will be four years of English; there will be four years of mathematics; there will be four years of science. Students may get training in shorthand or bookkeeping, they may take up commercial law, commercial correspondence, salesmanship or one of the many other practical courses leading to a high school diploma. The fine part of it all is that men and women may get this training without leaving their regular employment.

New Students Welcome

At the beginning of the second semester new students will find a hearty welcome from the 57 standard high school teachers and the principal, Willis E. Tower. Not only will they find these officials of the school ready to give them the glad hand of encouragement, but they will find the old-timers among the student body organized into a booster club which is putting on for the benefit of these incoming students a special welcoming feature called "Howdy Week." In this organization there will be an opportunity for new members of the school to get acquainted with many of the other new ones and with many of the men and women who have already been in the school, for each person will have pinned to the lapel of his coat a card reading as follows: "Howdy, Folks, My name is John Doe, Room 328." In this way it is hoped by the committee of students in charge that a feeling of friendliness may be engendered which will help very much in making the school a success. The week will end on February 9 with a Valentine party at which still further efforts will be made to get different members acquainted with each other.

Many Thousands Witness Costume Skating at Ogden Park

It was estimated fully 5,000 people attended the carnival in the evening of the second annual winter sports day at Ogden Park and the afternoon races brought out a large crowd of participants and spectators in spite of the inclement weather Saturday.

The big races of the day were the four-man relay race and the mile race for senior men. The relay was won by the team representing the Blossom Athletic club. The Stolen Kisses came in second. The mile race was won by Claude Madsen, while Ed Murray and Bill Claussen made a close second and third. Ed McNamara was fourth.

Among the girls, Ruth Willard, 5917 Justine street, and Anna Simmons, 6456 Bishop street, were the stars. Among the younger boys Charles and Francis Barry, William Murray and Raymond Walsh took the honors.

The carnival in the evening was far more successful this year than last. There were more lights, more costuming and good music. Henry Hanbury of the Ogden Park Men's Gym club filled the breach at the last minute and personally paid $25 for an orchestra, which was enjoyed not only by the skaters but also by the crowd on shore. The costume contest for boys and men was won by Mr. Gall, in a comedy bell boys' outfit. The women's prize was won by Mabel Asher in a jockey costume. Henry Dykema and George Seipp shared honors for the prizes given for stunt skating for boys. Many unusual prizes were given through the generosity of the local merchants and neighborhood women. Ten $1 savings accounts were given by both the West Englewood Trust and Savings Bank and the Ashland Sixty-third State Bank. Five dollars was donated by Representative John M. Lee which was used for buying horns that were given to all the crowd at the carnival.

Virginia Colony and Powhattan Village Meet

Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Herman, Mrs. Frowley, Mrs. Kendall, hostesses. Make reservations from Mrs. Warren Taylor, telephone Superior 4361. On account of hotel management regulations it is essential that luncheon reservations be made. Mrs. O. W. Brady, commander-in-chief, Mrs. Chas J. Agnew, chief.

Judge Payne Speaker at Drexel Park Church

Judge Payne, president of the board of South Park commissioners, who has recently been reappointed by President Harding as chairman of the American Red Cross society, will be speaker at the Drexel Park church at 8 o'clock Friday evening, February 2, under the auspices of the men's class.

The meeting will be open to all men of the community and a general invitation has been extended. John Bain, teacher of the class, will preside. Judge Payne is one of the noted lawyers of the United States and was a member of President Wilson's cabinet. In addition to his speech, a good program of entertainment has been arranged and a capacity house is expected.

The trial, in which Link faces a charge of attempting robbery, was continued to February 9.

Hiram Kelly Branch Library Children's Room

February is the month of holidays—holidays of particular importance to children, commemorating the birthdays of Americans of whom little folks are first learning the greatness. To first learn of Abraham Lincoln and his humble kindliness and charity is to open new fields of reverence. The bibliography of Lincoln is an enormous one and there are many included particularly for children. H. Nicholay's "Boy's Life of Abraham Lincoln," is one in which a child can lose himself in admiration of this rugged, stern, but at all times charitable, character. J. Baldwin's "Abraham Lincoln" and E. S. Brook's "True Story of Abraham Lincoln" and many others are all of vast interest to young folks.

The plays written with Lincoln as the leading figure are of vast interest to read and even to produce—"Abraham Lincoln, the Rail-Splitter," and "Scenes From the Time of Lincoln" and many others are on our shelves. The stories written for children with Lincoln as the hero are few but particularly good, the first among them being Mary S. Andrew's "Perfect Tribute."

The other great American whose birthday falls within this month is one whose name is taught to young America early. George Washington, the father of his country, the first president of the U. S., is the first political figure with whom children become acquainted. It is a splendid time as his birthday approaches for children to learn about this aristocratic truth-telling Virginian who stood for all the splendid things for which our country was founded.

F. Hill's "On the Trail of Washington" and Scudder's "George Washington," along with many other admirable biographies written of him, are splendid beginnings. There are also many stories written about the life of Washington as surveyor, fighter and General.

Another anniversary of February is St. Valentine's day. For the handy little girl there are many suggestions on the library shelves for the making of beautiful and artistic valentines. Beard's "American Girl's Handy Book," Beard's "Things Worth Doing," Beard's "What A Girl Can Make And Do" and many others are just full of suggestions. Then, too, all the lovely valentines, rhymes and poetry seems to be particularly important at this time. E. Field's "Love Songs of Childhood" and Stevenson's "Days and Deeds" have many lovely valentine sentiments.

Woolsey's "Round Dozen" and Mischief's "Thanksgiving and Other Stories" and Richard's "Five-Minute Stories" include some very pretty little valentine stories. Among these and others will be found various explanations of the origin of St. Valentine's Day and even that the name has changed with the centuries.

There will be special Washington, Lincoln and Valentine shelves in the Children's Room and special story-hour programs.

The library is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on every week day except legal holidays. The library will be open from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays.

Falling nine stories, from the twelfth to the third floor in the elevator shaft of the New Windermere hotel, Fifty-sixth street and Hyde Park boulevard, last week, James Moran, a plumber living at 6731 Morgan street, fractured five ribs, shattered his right shoulder blade, and received internal injuries, but is still living.

He is being cared for at the Illinois Central hospital. Moran was employed as a steam fitter by Mehring and Hanson company, 118 N. Franklin street. He was installing radiators in the new building when he slipped and fell through an open elevator hatchway.

Favorites for Coming Aldermanic Campaign

Aldermanic candidates from the different wards in which the Englewood Business Men's association is interested, will be invited to attend a luncheon meeting prior to the primaries in order that members of the organization may have opportunity to "look them over," according to a resolution passed at last week's luncheon meeting, when a number of important projects were discussed at length. It was also announced that an employers and employees meeting would be held sometime in the near future.

Applications for membership were received and voted favorably upon from the Boulevard Tire Shop, 5513 Normal boulevard, and the Englewood market, 5920 S. Halsted street.

Mrs. Waldemar Veazie, former president of the Perkins Bass Parent-Teacher association, was present and made a talk asking the cooperation of the association in the mass meeting treated in another column.

Gerald E. Sullivan of the Englewood Times reported the fact that a Chicago daily was installing automatic paper sales boxes on light posts in the territory covered by the Englewood Commercial and Civic association, and urged that members of the Business Men's association join with the eastern territory in protesting. The matter was referred to the public improvements committee. Mr. Sullivan also suggested that a movement, started some time ago, to induce Englewood motorists to substitute Englewood tags for Chicago tags, should be put into effect. The matter was favorably voted upon. William Tegtmeier announced the funeral for William Radebaugh, principal of Kershaw school, and a committee, consisting of Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Tegtmeier, Walter Morris, Thomas Whitehead, and Harry Englestein, was appointed to represent the association there.

A motion was passed that a communication be sent the local American Legion posts promising that preference be given ex-service men in filling positions, and that the Legion posts be asked in return to assist the business men in ridding the district of obnoxious peddlers, who claimed war service as excuse for their tactics.

F. F. Hopkins, chairman of the program committee, announced that Judge Horner would be speaker at this week's meeting and that the Reverend Williamson would talk February 15 on law enforcement.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

Wouldn't That Be Wonderful?

Oh, would some Burbank of the west,
Patent, make and sell
An onion with an onion taste,
But with a violet smell!

One night at school beats nine at pool.

France is evidently trying to get a free Ruhral delivery.

A daddy never wakes the second baby up to see it smile.

Now that groundhog day is passed we are liable to have a spell of weather of some sort.

I read a want ad: "Wanted—A butler able to drive a car, also husband and wife."

Do you remember back in the days when a stein was something else beside a dust collector on the plate rail?

I have a neighbor whose wife drives the car and he has put up a sign over the garage door "Stop—Look—Listen."

An Englewood cashier remarked to me that she was afraid she was growing old, as many of her customers counted their change now.

When a couple of today have had a quarrel and want to begin again, the man has to kiss, but the wife has already "made up."

Statistics show that the average man's arm is thirty inches long; the average woman's waist is thirty inches around. Ain't nature grand?

If the petit jury does as good work as the Grand Jury, the meetings of the Board of Education of Chicago may have to be held at Joliet.

Lady—Toby, I'm sorry to hear your wife got a divorce.

Toby—Yas'm, she done gone back to Alabama.

Lady—Who will do my washing now?

Toby—Well'm, I'se co'tin' agin, and I co'tes rapid.

A man published a formal notice that "he would not be responsible for debts contracted by anyone but himself." The next week we had a local announcing that he was in a local hospital and the wounds on his head showed indications of being inflicted by a rolling pin. His wife then brought us in another notice that the man had been mistaken.

Due to an auto accident a young man had to spend the night at a farmhouse. The next morning when he went to the pump to wash he took with him his comb, brush, shaving outfit and nail file. A farm hand who watched with much interest until the toilet was completed, finally burst forth: "Say, mister, are you always that much trouble to yourself?"

A fool is born every minute but they get married two at a time.

A tailor over near the railroad station has a sign reading, "Pants pressed between trains."

A lady called at Art Decheney's yesterday and said she wanted a piece of meat without fat, bone or gristle and Art advised her to take an egg.

A thief who was making off with an expensive rug was met by a policeman who accused him of stealing it. "I didn't steal it, the woman gave it to me and told me to beat it."

One of the teachers in a nature class asked Casey's little boy if he knew what a picture of a Zebra was, and was met with the ready answer, "Shure, ut do be a mule in a bathing suit."

Moriarity was puffing away at a very strong pipe and worse tobacco as he remarked: "Yis, Oi do be lookin' a noice quiet schmoke." "Begarry yez will awlways hov ut, as long as yez schmoke thot poipe an' tebacckey, no wan kin sthand fer thot schmell long," remarked Casey.

A rather raw servant girl was told to order the family vegetables at the grocer's. After booking what was asked for, the tradesman queried: "Will your mistress want any horseradish today? Some just in, nice and fresh." Tossing her head, Mary Jane said: "No, indeed: we want no such thing, I know. My master keeps a motor car."

A friend who had been very ill was telling me of the solicitude of his neighbors as to his health and especially one neighbor whom he did not know who sent his boy several times a day to make kind inquiries after his health. After he was able to be about he met the boy on the street and asked him whose boy he was and whose kind parents had sent him so often to inquire about him, and the small boy answered: "Yep, dat's all right; ye see me fader's an undertaker and he wos lookin' fer a job." Now my friend has revised his views on disinterested friendship and neighborliness.

Casey approached the clerk in a second-hand store over on Halsted st. and, looking about him inquired, "Do yez kape iny telescopes?" "Shure, wait unt I vill show you some off tem," answered the clerk. After going to the back room and rummaging about awhile he returned with a mammoth spy glass, saying: "Here is the best one in the place." Casey looked at it in disgust a minute, and then burst out with: "Oi say you, thot's a dommed fome thing to put clothes in, ain't it? Phwat do yez take me fer, a burlesque actriss?" and he stomped from the store.

Englewood Woman's Club Program February 13th at Englewood High School

The next meeting of the Englewood Woman's club, to be held in the auditorium of Englewood High school on Tuesday evening, February 13, is to be one of the big events of the year in Englewood. The occasion is a concert to be rendered by the members of the Glee club of the Chicago Association of Commerce, Herbert E. Hyde, conductor; Edith Rideau Normelli, soloist. Anyone who has heard the Glee club of sixty active business men in the Chicago Association of Commerce, knows that good music will be presented.

The Glee club was organized in 1910 to help in programs given by the Chicago Association of Commerce. It also sings for benefits, civic affairs, and at hospitals for disabled soldiers. Each year it gives one concert for the public, with an artist of note as soloist. In May, 1921, the club gave a concert at the Auditorium with Mary Garden as soloist. Ruth Miller, in the Chicago Tribune, said of the affair, "The Glee club of the Chicago Association of Commerce is an honest, sturdy singing crew. It is happiest in full volume; then the tone has a sound, strong fibre and the attack is certain." K. Hackett, in the Chicago Evening Post, said, "Their singing of Murchison's 'Captain Kidd' was capital. They did a number of neat bits of singing in the crispness of the attack. The shade of the tone and the precision with which they closed their phrases showed the result of training."

The club is under the direction of Herbert L. Hyde, superintendent of the Chicago Music association of Chicago. He is also organist and choir master of St. Luke's church, Evanston. Besides being a director, Mr. Hyde has composed the incidental music for a number of plays, songs and compositions for the piano and organ. Under his direction the Glee club has become one of the leading musical organizations of the city.

Edith Normelli, soprano, studied in Paris and has been heard in recitals in many cities of the United States, Canada and Europe. The range and quality of her voice has brought praise from music critics. For four years she was at the head of the voice department of the State Normal Training school at Pittsburgh.

Invitations have been extended to the women's clubs and men's business associations of the respective community. There will be no charge for admission, the members of the Glee club giving up their time purely for their love of singing. The concert is scheduled for 8:15, and the doors of the auditorium will be open at 7:15. A large crowd is expected.

Illinois Council of Parent-Teacher Associations

Mid-winter conference and exhibit for District One (Chicago), Mrs. Walter H. Buhlig, 372 Normal Parkway, director; Mrs. Chas. Fricke, 7239 Princeton ave., secretary-treasurer, will be held at the Chicago Normal College, 6800 Stewart ave., room 200, main building, Tuesday, February 6, 1923.

Berg-Downing Wedding

Wednesday afternoon at St. Bernard's church witnessed the marriage of J. M. B. Downing of New York City and Miss Edna E. Berg, of 6418 Yale ave. Miss Ella Berg, a sister of the bride, and A. S. Vinnedge, a brother-in-law, accompanied the happy couple. A reception confined to immediate relatives and friends of the family followed the ceremony. They are now enjoying an extended honeymoon in the east. They will make their home at the Kenwood, 63rd and Kenwood ave., upon their return.

Death of Charles Rice

The Englewood Times received a telegram Monday announcing the death of Charles Rice, a former well known Englewood merchant who conducted the drug store at 63rd st. and Stewart ave. for nearly 20 years, and who moved to Louisville, Ky., about five years ago, and has since been operating the largest store in that southern city at the corner of 5th and Walnut sts. Mr. Rice died of heart trouble complicated by an attack of pneumonia and his funeral occurred in Louisville Thursday under Masonic auspices. Mr. Rice was an old Chicago boy, coming to Englewood from the west side many years ago. He was an energetic live business man and had a host of friends here as well as in his new home in Kentucky, where he had just finished a beautiful new residence.

Fred High Speaker at Kiwanis Club

Fred High, who is well known througnout Englewood for his ability as a speaker, will talk before the Englewood Kiwanis club at next Friday's meeting on the subject, "Making Service Pay." Frank Hopkins, chairman of the program committee, has also arranged for special music. At this week's meeting a vote will be taken on the amendment to the by-laws which has been proposed concerning eligibility to membership.

A vaudeville program given by students of the Englewood Dancing academy featured the entertainment at last week's meeting of the Englewood Kiwanis club held Friday noon. Howard Schultz was the first performer with several buck and wing numbers. Bernice Snider gave a toe dance and song and Lucille Crowhurst danced. Miss Evelyn Mack was at the piano.

Following songs sung by a trio, consisting of Eddy Matts, Ray Swanson and George Tebbins, of the M. D. Price sign company, Miss Snider gave a second dance and Miss Crowhurst and Howard Schultz presented a difficult duet number.

F. F. Hopkins, chairman of the program committee, acted as chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Waldemar Veazie presented the plans of the Perkins Bass Parent-Teacher association for Friday night's mass meeting and asked the support of the Kiwanians.
